

WHAT YOU SHOULD EXPECT:

THE SOUNDS, THE DIRT, AND THE INCONVENIENCES OF CONSTRUCTION

1

THE TRANSFORMATION PROCESS: EMBRACING THE JOURNEY

Like any masterpiece, your landscape will go through various stages of transformation. It's important to understand that the process may temporarily affect your yard's appearance...meaning it is going to look worse before it looks better. Do not panic, just remember: the path to beauty often requires a period of organized chaos – trust in the process and the vision we've created together.

CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY AND NOISE

Your team will be using professional-grade equipment to bring your dream landscape to life. While we maintain strict work hours (typically 8 AM - 5 PM on weekdays) to respect your neighborhood, you can expect a lot of noise, vibrations, dust, and movement:

- Use of specialized hardscape equipment
- Heavy machinery for excavation and material placement
- Power tools for precise installations

SITE CONDITIONS DURING CONSTRUCTION

Your yard will go through a transformation process...and it bears repeating, "it will look worse before it looks better":

- Initial demolition and tear up of the yard
- staging of materials for hardscapes, turf, and water features
- Temporary storage of soil and aggregates
- Possible placement of disposal bins
- Daily cleanup by our professional crew

SAFETY FIRST

Your family's safety is important to us:

- While heavy machinery and power tools are operating our focus is on those items, not you, so please stay clear of the work area
- Secured work areas and machinery at the end of each day
- Once we leave site for the day it is ok to inspect the work and enjoy the progress, but always wear shoes and stay off any work areas your foreman indicates.

We kindly ask that children and pets remain at a safe distance from the construction area unless your foreman indicates otherwise

WEATHER AND TIMELINE CONSIDERATIONS

2

While we typically complete projects in on schedule, please note:

- Weather conditions may affect our schedule and the look of your site with standing water
- Material deliveries are carefully coordinated
- Any timeline adjustments will be communicated promptly through your dedicated foreman

NEIGHBORLY CONSIDERATIONS

We recommend:

- Informing your neighbors about the upcoming project
- Sharing our work hours with them
- Letting them know about potential equipment parking

We pride ourselves on being respectful community members and will ensure minimal disruption to your neighborhood.

COMMUNICATION EXCELLENCE

You can expect:

- Weekly updates from your project foreman
- Clear channels for questions or concerns
- Prompt responses to any inquiries
- Professional documentation of progress
